Vacancy Announcement

Assistant Scientist (Early Life History Research) for the Inter-American Tropical Tuna Commission (IATTC)

The Inter-American Tropical Tuna Commission (IATTC) invites applications for the position of Assistant Scientist. This is a full time appointment to work at the headquarters of this international organization, located in La Jolla, California, U.S.A.

The IATTC is the regional fisheries management organization responsible for the implementation of the 2003 Antigua Convention, the object of which is to ensure the long-term conservation and sustainable use of the stocks of tunas and tuna-like species and other species of fish taken by vessels fishing for tunas and tuna like species in the eastern Pacific Ocean. The IATTC employs a scientific staff that operates under the supervision of the Director of the Commission and of its Coordinator of Scientific Research. The functions of the scientific staff are defined in article XIII of the Convention and include, among others, conducting scientific research, providing information and scientific advice and collecting statistical data. More information about the IATTC can be found at www.iattc.org.

The selected applicant will be expected to work as part of the Early Life History Research Program. The duties of the selected applicant may include, among others:

- Analysis of larval and juvenile tuna samples and physical data collected during experiments.
- Analysis of experimental data and database management, and procurement of equipment for the IATTC's Achotines Laboratory in Panama.
- Temporary field assignments to the IATTC's Achotines Laboratory in Panama to assist in ecological experiments with larval and juvenile tunas.
- Other travels as required.
- Contribution to the preparation of scientific publications resulting from experimental studies conducted by the research group.

Selection Criteria

A Bachelor's degree (BA) in life science, or a relevant work experience.

Candidates should also possess the following skills:

- Knowledge of PC-based databases, particularly MS Access.
- Willingness to travel when necessary.
- Good interpersonal skills and experience working as part of the team, as well as working independently.
- Working knowledge of English or Spanish and at least limited knowledge of one of the two. Fluency in both languages, written and oral, will be considered as an asset.

Salary and Allowances

Commensurate with qualifications, skills and experience. The base salary for an applicant with a BA will be equivalent to an adjusted US Federal pay grade GS-6 level ($43,232 to $50,440/year).

Allowances include annual leave with pay, sick leave with pay, medical, dental and life insurance and a defined contribution pension plan.

Availability

The candidate chosen for the post should be available to report at IATTC headquarters in early May, 2017, or as soon as possible thereafter.

Applications

Applications may be submitted in either English or Spanish and should be sent no later than March 31, 2017 in electronic format to tmusano@iattc.org, or to the following address:
